

WILLIAM J. LONG
Professor of Global Studies and Political Science
Georgia State University

EDUCATION

Post-Doctoral 2004-08	Emory University	Religion
Ph.D. 1986	Columbia University	Political Science
J.D. 1983	Georgetown University	Law
M.A. 1980	Columbia University	International Economics
B.A. 1978	American University	International Relations and Economics

RECENT EMPLOYMENT HISTORY

Dean	College of Arts and Sciences Georgia State University	2011-2016
Professor	Department of Political Science/Global Studies Institute	2011-Present
Chair	The Sam Nunn School of International Affairs Georgia Institute of Technology	2001-2011
Professor	The Sam Nunn School of International Affairs Georgia Institute of Technology	1999-2011
Co-Director	European Union Center University System of Georgia	1999-2001

CURRENT FIELDS OF INTEREST

Religion and Politics, Democracy and Development, Comparative Political Theory, Transnational Governance, International Cooperation and Conflict Resolution

SELECTED PUBLICATIONS

Books

Long, William J., Tantric State: Dharma, Democracy and Development in Bhutan, under review at Oxford University Press.

Long, William J., Pandemics and Peace: Public Health Cooperation in Zones of Conflict, Washington, D.C.: United States Institute of Peace Press, 2011.

Long William J., War and Reconciliation, Cambridge: MIT Press, 2003 (with Peter Brecke).

Long, William J., Economic Incentives and Bilateral Cooperation, Ann Arbor: University of Michigan Press, 1996.

Long, William J., U.S. Export Control Policy: Executive Autonomy Versus Congressional Reform, New York: Columbia University Press, 1989.

Book Chapters

Long, William J., “Dharma and Democracy in Bhutan,” under review at SUNY Press.

Long, William J., “Cross Border Health Cooperation in Complicated Regions: The Case of the Mekong Basin Disease Surveillance Network,” in Transnational Governance in Southeast Asia, Vesselin Popouski, ed., Tokyo: United Nation Press, 2011.

Long, William J., “Japanese Foreign Assistance and Nonproliferation,” in Japanese Foreign Policy in Asia and the Pacific, Akitoshi, Mayashita and Yoichiro Sato, eds. New York: Palgrave, 2001. Republished in Japanese, Tokyo: Minera Shobo, 2005.

Long, William J., “Incentives and The Avoidance of Deadly Conflict,” in The Price of Peace, Oxford: Rowman and Littlefield, 1997.

Long, William J., “Global Security, Democratization, and Economic Development after the Cold War: New Goals for U.S. Export Control Policies,” in Making the Transition: New Directions in Technology Transfer Policy, Ann Arbor: University of Michigan Press, 1994.

Long, William J., “Defining Strategic Exports,” in Export Control Policy in the 1990s: Problems and Prospects, Durham, NC: Duke University Press, 1991.

Long, William J., “The Executive, Congress, and Interest Groups in U.S. Export Control Policy: The National Organization of Power,” in Controlling East-West Trade and Technology Transfer: Power, Politics, and Policy, Durham, NC: Duke University Press, 1988.

Published Journal Articles (refereed)

Long, William J., “Globalization and Wellbeing,” in preparation.

Long, William J., “Rich Digital Media as a Tool in Post-Conflict Truth and Reconciliation,” Media, War and Conflict, vol. 4, no. 3, 2011 (with Michael Best).

Long, William J., “Liberia’s Truth and Reconciliation Commission: An Interim Assessment,” International Journal of Peace Studies, vol. 13, no. 2, Winter 2009.

Long, William J., “A Philosophical Exploration of Forgiveness,” Philosophy in the Contemporary World, vol. 15, no. 1, 2008.

Long, William J., "Quantum Theory and Neuroplasticity: Implications for Social Theory," Journal of Theoretical and Philosophical Psychology, vol. 26, no. 1, 2006.

Long, William J., "Assessing Engagement: Why America's Incentive Strategy Toward North Korea 'Worked' and Could Work Again," International Journal of Korean Unification Studies, vol. 15, no. 2, 2006.

Long, William J., "The Emotive Bases of Recurrent International Conflict," Journal of Politics and The Life Sciences, vol. 22, no. 1, Spring 2004 (with Peter Brecke).

Long, William J., "Personal Data Privacy in an Age of Globalization," Journal of European Public Policy, vol. 3, no. 3, August 2002.

Long, William J., "Nonproliferation as a Goal of Japanese Foreign Assistance," Asian Survey, vol. 39, no. 2, 1999.

Long, William J., "Trade and Technology Incentives and Bilateral Cooperation," International Studies Quarterly, vol. 40, no. 2, June 1996.

Long, William J., "The Pew Initiative: Case Teaching in International Affairs," International Studies Notes, vol. 18, no. 3, Fall 1993.

Long, William J., "Multilateral Cooperation and Nuclear Nonproliferation," Security Studies, vol. 2, no. 3-4, Spring/Summer 1993 (with Richard Cupitt).

Long, William J., "Proliferating Problems: U.S., Management of Strategic Technology After the Cold War," Technology in Society, vol. 14, no. 4, Fall 1992.

Long, William J., "National Security Versus National Welfare in U.S. Economic Policy," Journal of Policy History, vol. 4, no. 2, Summer 1992.

Long, William J., "Economic Incentives and International Cooperation: U.S. Technology Transfer to the People's Republic of China," Journal of Peace Research, vol. 2, no.2, May 1991.

Long, William J., "Export Controls: Moving Beyond Economic Containment," World Policy Journal, vol. 7, no.1, Winter 1990 (with Kevin Quigley).

Long, William J., "Expand the Military Industrial Complex? No—Its Unnecessary and Inefficient," Orbis, vol. 33, no. 2, Fall 1989.

Other Publications (non-refereed)

Long, William J., Review of Richard Ned Lebow's, Why Nations Fight, Political Psychology, vol. 34, no. 1, 2013.

Long, William J., Review of Charles Griswold, Forgiveness: A Philosophical Investigation, Peace and Change, vol. 33, no. 4, 2008.

Long, William J., Review of Adam Curle, The Fragile Voice of Love, “Joyfully Discovering the Emptiness of a Very Full Life,” Peace and Conflict, vol. 13, no. 1, 2007.

Long, William J., Review of Colin Bennett and Charles Raab, The Governance of Information Policy: Policy Instruments in Global Perspective, Governance, vol. 20, no. 4, October 2007.

Long, William J., Review of Julia Emon Allison, Ed., Technology, Development, and Democracy, American Political Science Review, vol. 98, no. 4, 2000.

Long, William J., Review of Beverly Crawford’s Economic Vulnerability in International Relations: East-West Trade, Investment, and Finance, American Political Science Review, vol. 88, no. 3, 1994.

Long, William J., Review of Thomas G. Weiss’ Multilateral Development Diplomacy in UNCTAD, American Political Science Review, vol. 82, no. 3, 1988.

Long, William J., Review of G. Bingham Powell’s Comparative Democracies, Political Science Quarterly, vol. 101, no. 4, 198

SELECTED RESEARCH AND EDUCATION GRANTS AND AWARDS

National Endowment for the Humanities, Summer Institute on Buddhism in Asia, 2015.

U.S. Institute of Peace, for creation of conflict resolution case studies, $25,000, 2011-2012.

U.S. Institute of Peace, Jennings Randolph senior fellowship, $85,000, 2010-2011.

John D. and Catherine T. MacArthur Foundation, for expansion and extension of the program on Science, Technology, and International Security, $1.84 million, 2006-2011.

John D. and Catherine T. MacArthur Foundation, $1.3 million for program on Science, Technology, and International Security, 2003-2006.

Coca-Cola Foundation for international education programs, $900,000, 2005-2012.

U.S. Department of Education, Title VI, for creation of Language-Across-the-Curriculum Program in East Asian Languages, $180,000, 2005-2007.

European Union, for creation of the European Union Center of the University System of Georgia, $600,000, 1998-2001; $250,000 for continuing operation, 2001-2004.

U.S. Department of Education, Title VI for creation of a Language-Across-the-Curriculum Program in French, German, and Spanish, $160,000, 2000-2002.

Council on Foreign Relations, International Affairs Fellow in Japan, $25,000, for research on Japanese foreign assistance policy, 1998.

Thomas Jefferson Chair, Leiden University, Netherlands, Fulbright Scholars Program, $25,000, 1994.